Armando Jorge and Christa Mertins are leading dancers in the evening Les Grands Ballets Canadiens which will perform at 8 p.m. today in Lantz Gym as the final presentation in the Artists Series.

Ballet Company Presents Program Tonight In Lantz

Les Grands Ballets Canadiens will be the final Artists Series program of the 1965-66 school year. The program will be at 8 p.m. today in Lantz Gym.

RESERVED seats are $2.50 and general admission is $2.00, according to Sidney R. Steele, chairman of the Artists Series Board. Students are admitted free upon presentation of their ID cards.

The program will include "Les Sylphides," "Nocturne," "Valse," "Sea Gallows" and "Graduation Ball."

The two major performances of the evening will be "Sea Gallows" and "Graduation Ball." The first is based on a Nova Scotian folk legend and the latter is about the cadets of a military academy who are given a gala evening in Vienna.

LES GRANDS Ballets Canadiens is noted as one of the best classical ballet companies touring North America.

The group made its U.S. debut at the Jacob's Pillow Dance Festival in 1959 and has grown from a concert group of 16 dancers to a full-fledged company, traveling with its own orchestra.

New Mascot Gone

Napoleon II Killed In Hit-And-Run

Napoleon II, Eastern's mascot of two months, is gone.

About 4 p.m. March 3, a hit-and-run driver struck and killed Napoleon while he was crossing Route 316 near the home of Rudolph D. Anfinson, dean of student personnel services.

The Anfinsons had been caring for "Nap" during the quarterbreak as they had done each night since the mascot first arrived at EIU.

According to Dean Anfinson, Napoleon had been staying outside most of the time because of the combination of the warm weather and his long hair.

He apparently saw one of the neighbor girls outside and decided to cross the highway. Apparently the car that hit him was going extremely fast because it hit Napoleon on one side

Light Penalties To Four Women In 'News' Theft

Election Winner, Yearbook Editor Found Guilty

The Student-Faculty Disciplinary Board has handed out disciplinary probation to one woman and official reprimands to three other women for their participation in the theft of the Feb. 9, 1966 edition of the Eastern News.

In all, seven students were brought before the board but the cases against three of the students were thrown out because of lack of evidence to implicate them in the theft.

THE MOST severe penalty was disciplinary probation for the rest of her undergraduate career which was given to Ann Meeks, senior from Decatur. She is the editor of the 1966 Warbler.

She was given the penalty after it was decided she was responsible for the burning of several copies of the paper in the incinerator at the Kappa Delta sorority house. The sorority was absolved of any participation in the activities.

The official reprimands, which are "scoldings" by the administration, were given to Avis Eagleton, senior from Canton; Judy Nash, sophomore from Blue Island; and Nancy Noffke, sophomore from Mattoon.

MISS NOFFKE was elected treasurer of the student body at the all-campus election held on the Friday following the theft of the paper Tuesday evening.

Cheryl Miller, sophomore from Decatur, was released by the board after the other women said she had nothing to do with the paper theft.

The two men, Dave Hicks, junior from Kankakee, and Lloyd Millhorn, junior from Oreana, were dismissed by the board after evidence against the two was inconclusive.

THEY ADMITTED to "carrying papers out, but only enough for the Pike house." No evidence was found by the board that implicated them in the destruction of the paper or in the theft of about 4,000 copies of the News.

Rudolph D. Anfinson, dean of student personnel services, asked the board if the persons involved should pay the $120 cost of reprinting the edition of the paper but the board refused to take any action.

The case is not completely closed, however, because the Student Senate has appointed a special committee to investigate the theft to see if any of the candidates involved in the recent election for Student Body Officers were involved.

Senator McGee To Speak Today On American Viet Nam Policy

United States Senator Gale McGee will lecture on "American Policy in Viet Nam and Academic Freedom" at 8 p.m. today in the Lab School Auditorium.

McGEE, Democratic senator from Wyoming, has been an outspoken spokesman for the administration's policy in Viet Nam, according to Charles Beall, head of the political science department.

For the past two years, he has served on panels and been on television as an administration spokesman, Beall said.

McGee and Beall were colleagues at the University of Wyoming, where McGee was a professor of diplomatic history before his election to the Senate in 1958.

They served together on the International Affairs Committee at that school for six years. McGee was chairman of the committee; Beall, co-chairman.

THE FIRST "freshman" ever assigned to the powerful and coveted Appropriations Committee of the Senate, McGee has also served on the Commerce Committee. He was assigned to a third committee, Post Office and Civil Service, in 1964.

The Senator's appearance is

Sen. Gale McGee

sponsored jointly by the political science, history and speech departments.

Noblit Resigns; Kaczor Named NEWS Editor

Bill Kaczor, sophomore from Chicago, has been appointed editor of the News for the spring quarter. The appointment was made by Daniel E. Thornburgh, adviser to student publications, after receiving the resignation of Ken Noblit.

Noblit, junior from Newton, has been editor of the News for the past year and will continue working with the new editor as editorial page editor. Noblit indicated that he is carrying a full load this quarter and resigned to concentrate on his studies.

He also said he had been editor for a year and that Kaczor would gain valuable experience editing the paper for a quarter before he transfers to Southern Illinois University next year.

Maurice Snively, sophomore from Hoopeston, has replaced Don Humrichouse as Advertising Manager this quarter. Rose Marie Carter, senior from Decatur, has been appointed Feature Editor.

of the head and threw him across the highway killing him instantly.

Anfinson said that another neighbor, Jim Evans, kept "Nap" covered for about two hours looking for signs of life but there were none.

Napoleon II is buried in the backyard of Dean Anfinson's home.

Doudna Reports Friday On Future Of Eastern

President Quincy Doudna is scheduled to make a formal statement on the future of the University based on materials prepared for the Board of Governors at a faculty meeting Friday.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Justice Fails . . .

What is becoming of justice when students who admit destroying property of others are told "naughty, naughty" and given slaps on the hand as their only punishment?

This is what happened to four of the seven students that the Disciplinary Board was trying for participation in the theft of the Eastern News of Feb. 9, 1966.

THIS ACTION by the disciplinary group was almost exactly what had been predicted by numerous students when they learned that the student-faculty board was going to hear the case.

The question that must be answered is "Why?" Why did the board decide to "white-wash" the case? Why did the board feel that the students involved should not pay for the second printing of the issue?

So far, no satisfactory answers have been given for any of these questions. The only "whys" that have been even partially answered are those concerning the dismissal of charges against three other students.

ONE WOMAN was let go because she reportedly "had nothing to do with it." The two men who were before the board were not given any penalty because they admitted only to "carrying papers out, but only enough for the Pike house."

The penalties that were given were only slaps on the hand to the persons involved. The worst penalty was disciplinary probation, which doesn't mean anything unless the person who receives the penalty gets into more trouble while attending school.

Three women received "official reprimands" which means that the women have been told that they were naughty in stealing the papers.

THE BOARD apparently felt that these four penalties were "severe enough" for the crime.

If this is true, why have so many men been suspended from school or placed on disciplinary probation for being caught off-campus while drinking underage?

It would seem that stealing $120 worth of materials on-campus is not as severe as drinking alcoholic beverages off-campus while underage.

THE DISCIPLINARY Board has failed to mete out justice to the persons involved in the theft of the papers. It has, in effect, told all students that they can participate in the theft and destruction of $120 worth of materials anytime they want. If caught, they will receive an official reprimand if they are in teacher education and disciplinary probation if they are enrolled in a non-education curriculum.

1. Establish a lakeside campus on the edge of Lincoln Reservoir.
2. Raise University standards for approval of off-campus housing.
3. Establish an autonomous University Union Board.
4. Develop adequate parking facilities for students, faculty and civil service employees to eliminate further restrictions on the use of automobiles.
5. Reapportion Student Senate on a more equitable, representative basis.
6. Include adequate, modern facilities for the Warbler, Vehicle, WELH radio and the News in the planning of new campus buildings.
7. Revise the Student Senate election rules.

We believe that justice can now only be accomplished by the Student Senate committee which is to investigate the theft of the papers in connection with any of the candidates in the student body officers election.

The Disciplinary Board was given an opportunity to exercise justice. It has failed to do so; so now another group must start where the board ended its attempts.

Keep Classes Small . . .

By the April or May meeting of the Board of Governors of State Colleges and Universities, President Quincy Doudna is to present a recommendation on the size of classrooms at Eastern.

We believe this recommendation should be to maintain the present size of classes rather than increasing the size of rooms to such a magnitude that hundreds of students sit in the same room hearing someone they don't know drone on about some uninteresting subject.

The only advantage to larger classrooms is more students can be crammed into the rooms. This method of teaching separates the teacher from the students and tends to eliminate the close relationship between the two groups.

Persons responsible for making the decision should weigh the alternatives carefully before deciding to change classroom size. The decision should be to maintain the present size.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"YOU MAY COME IN, WORTHAL—THE COMMITTEE HAS REACHED A DECISION ON YOUR PETITION."

By Steve Gibbs

Like the Gemini missile program, the Karamu was a long time getting off the ground. But, through the tireless efforts of Allan Wagenheim and a handful of associates, the first Eastern faculty literary magazine is a reality.

Karamu (to refresh some memories) was first designed to represent literary works, be they poetry, essay, academic articles, short stories or discussion, from all departments and from every field of education at Eastern. The first edition, despite mammoth odds, achieved that goal.

The report that the magazine was a success from editor chief Wagenheim came as a result of the sale of all 300 copies within three days of its printing. The response was phenomenal from the students, that is.

WAGENHEIM estimated that "about 15 per cent of the faculty purchased Karamu." But what seems even worse is the fact that members of the administration showed utter disregard for Karamu. Not only was there no verbal support for the magazine (administration officials had their hands tied financially due to a time element), but there was no sign of general interest demonstrated when the Karamu went on sale.

In fact, according to Wagenheim, "one of the top officials involved in the instruction end of administration walked into the Union on the first day of sales, came up to the stand where copies were on display, picked up an issue and glanced through the pages, grunted to himself and sat the copy back on the table as he walked away, and said 'I've never heard of it.' I couldn't believe it."

The epitome of the disregard came when Wagenheim always the salesman, casually commented to an administrator that sales had begun that the support of the administration had been "somewhat lacking." The administrator flushed and assured him that he would purchase three copies the next day.

When Wagenheim entered the administrator's office the next day and reminded him, the evasive castle-dweller smiled and informed Wagenheim that "The check from the fund has not arrived yet."

GREAT! WHEN a member of the administration finally bought Karamu he has to have it financed from school funds (undoubtedly from state tax money). It is a shame, no matter how you slice it, that persons in education can't find time, energy, or $1.25 to help build some form of academic atmosphere at Eastern. Such a shame.

Our Readers . . . Speak

Election Ends With "Ins In, Outs Out"

After reading the many comments concerning our recent election for Student Body Officers, I want to express some of my own.

I FAIL to see the reason for the excitement, mudslinging charges, and counter-charges made by the candidates and by the many students, most of whom did not even bother to vote. The "ins" are still in and the "outs" are still out and that is that.

Besides, why create such anxiety over one of the biggest shams this campus holds? The Independents vote Independent for as equally ridiculous reasons as Greek's vote Greek: 1) they vote not as individuals, but as sheep; 2) they cast their ballots AGAINST and not FOR a particular slate; and 3) they vote for a face or label and not for ideals or issues. In short, children are toying with government and what a mockery they have made of it. Independents and Greeks alike: "a plague on both your houses."

Miss Moulton's letter, quite narrow-minded in scope to me, asked students to be open-minded. She criticized the editor for editorializing on the editorial page, and in effect asked more students to think as she does—Greek. I was happy to read that "some of her best friends" are Independents. They will be happy to know that she does not discriminate against them.

ABOVE ALL the so-called Independent slate has been playing politics with our student government far too long and their reasons for campaigning are more than suspect.

Bids for personal power do not exhibit concern for representative government. Ends never do justify means. Qualifications they had, but sincere and above-board campus interests at heart appeared lacking. "Beat the Greeks"—who had no qualifications—seemed to be the only motive of the Independents.

Democratic and representative government does not exist on this campus and the majority of students do not care; the rest have trivial, special interests. Student rights were not exercised nor observed and thus no one has reason for dissatisfaction with student government or the conduct of affairs with the administration.

Students at EIU: thank you for demonstrating your lack of maturity and understanding of the science of self-government. You all failed the final exam.

Corn's Convictions In Defeat Praised

Dear Editor:

I would like to commend Michael J. Corn on his letter to the editor of Eastern News. I am very proud of the way my fellow student, Michael Corn, stood by his convictions, while at the same time accepting defeat in a most honorable manner.

As for the letter by Preston M. Corn, I can only say he has done his brother a great injustice.

I suggest that the Preston M. Corns on this campus pick up

Doudna Brings Proposal To Senate To Replace Student Life Committee

President Quincy Doudna presented the Student Senate with a proposal to establish three "councils" in order to increase student participation in academic, administrative and student life matters at Saturday afternoon dinner.

ONE OF the councils would replace the present Student Life Committee. Doudna said that the committee has served a good purpose, but was experimental at the start. He commented that there is something wrong with having a group perpetuate itself by electing its own members as the committee does. He said that this membership system tends to develop cliques.

Doudna's proposed councils would all be made up of members elected by the Student Senate and Faculty Senate. He suggested that there be eight students, three to five faculty members and an administrator on each council.

Half of the students would be elected by the Faculty Senate and the other half by the Student Senate if Doudna's plans are accepted. The terms would be overlapping with two new students appointed each quarter, including the summer quarter.

THE LIFE committee's membership requirements were changed at the end of the winter quarter after it had operated most of the quarter as an open discussion group.

At one time, only invited persons were allowed to attend committee meetings and become members, but this policy was dropped. Under the new revisions the meetings will be "closed" and only members allowed to vote, but any student can come to the meetings to present ideas and participate in discussion.

Voting membership will be limited to students who are added to the committee by a majority vote of present members.

Doudna said that his proposal was a "calculated risk" and that it might fall flat on its face, depending upon the reaction of the Student Senate. He offered the opinion that the Student Life Committee's membership system is not adequate, and that his plan would bring continuity, yet provide people who would have something to contribute.

White To Serve On State Board

Robert White, professor of English, has been named to the Faculty Advisory Committee of the Illinois Board of Higher Education, according to President Quincy Doudna.

The committee will function as a general advisory group both initiating and reviewing recommendations to the Board on major policy matters.

Senate Validates Election In Heated Session

Four sophomores took office as Student Body Officers Saturday during a Student Senate dinner after three protests against their election had been dismissed by the senate in a special session Feb. 15.

The session, called by outgoing president Bob Luther, was marred by heated controversy over the meaning of the election rules and resulted in not only the protests being thrown out, but the protesters as well.

THE RESULTS of the balloting, which saw the election of Jeff Benning, president; Jack McKenna, vice president; Marty Cropper, secretary; and Nancy Noffke, treasurer; were challenged on the grounds that the winning slate had allegedly campaigned on the day of the voting.

Election rules restrict campaigning to the four days before the election.

The controversy, however, concerned a rule which states that protests must be decided by a "majority of the quorum of the senate." The outcome of the protests hinged on whether the rule was interpreted as meaning a majority of the senators present or the majority of two thirds of the senate's total membership, which constitutes a quorum.

THE SENATORS supporting the protests interpreted the rule as meaning a majority of two thirds. In the ensuing argument acting president Warren Brazas ordered a specially appointed sergeant-at-arms to remove some spectators and senators who supported this interpretation.

The remaining senators then voted to reject the protests.

Among those removed from the floor was Mike Corn, the

To any kid who'd like to go somewhere: We'll pay half your fare.

The idea's not as crazy as it may seem.
Anytime we take a jet up, there are almost always leftover seats.

So it occurred to us that we might be able to fill a few of them, if we gave the young people a break on the fare, and a chance to see the country.

The American Youth Plan*

We call the idea the American Youth Plan, and what it means is this:

American will pay half the jet coach fare for anybody 12 through 21.

It's that simple.

All you have to do is prove your age (a birth certificate or any other legal document will do) and buy a $3 identification card.

We date and stamp the card, and this entitles you to a half-fare ticket at any American Airlines counter.

The only catch is that you might have to wait before you get aboard; the fare is on a standby basis.

"Standby" simply means that the passengers with reservations and the servicemen get on before you do.

Then the plane's yours.

The American Youth Plan is good year round except for a few days before and after the Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas rushes.

If you can't think of any places you'd like to go offhand, you might see a travel agent for a few suggestions.

We can't add anything else.

Other than it's a marvelous opportunity to just take off.

Complete this coupon—include your $3.
(Do not send proof of age—it is not needed until you have your ID validated.)

In addition to your ID card, we'll also send you a free copy of AA's Go Go American with $50 worth of discount coupons.

Zeigel Visits Ky. As NCATE Man

William H. Zeigel, vice president for administration, spent three days recently visiting the Kentucky State College at Frankfort, Ky., as a member of a team of midwest educators representing the National Council on Accrediting for Teacher Education.

The NCATE team that visited the Kentucky institution included seven persons from Illinois, Tennessee, Ohio and Pennsylvania, along with a representative of the Kentucky State Department of Education and one from the Kentucky State Teachers Association.

The national council has national responsibility for accrediting teacher education institutions in the United States. In January 1963, a similar team visited Eastern.

As a result of that visit and subsequent conferences, Eastern was given full accreditation for the preparation of teachers at the bachelor's and master's degree levels.

5 O'clock Play Explores God

"Christ and the Concrete City" is the title of today's 5 O'clock Theatre presentation.

The play, directed by Janet Norberg, associate professor of speech, concerns the drama of God, gate-crashing the petty concerns of man. The actors step into and out of characters which are historical and also act as a chorus, making contemporary comments as they relate the passion of Christ to the pace of 20th century life.

Interesting effects are used. For example, the distortion of make-up suggests that although man was created in God's image, man has distorted that image.

The players—the Baptist Student Union—are adding this performance to many others, presented on tour throughout Illinois.

Little Giants Called Camp As Wedgies

Editor:

For the enlightenment of those who wondered about the "Utter-Camp — 5-2183" (Douglas Hall) advertisement in the News, "Boy After Hours" (Playboy Sept. '65) states that camp used "... to describe anything that's in laughably, outlandishly, deemably bad taste."

"Wedgies, Victor Mature Movie Forest Lawn, Lawrence Welk and souvenir ashtrays in the shape of the Statue of Liberty, the Temple, are all considered camp, because their quintessential greenness makes them almost a parody of tastelessness." I assume we may now add Douglas Hall to that list?

Sincerely,
W. D. Hoops

my well-being have been a cough and a post-nasal drip.

I have not been in a hospital since an occasion several weeks ago when I toured the construction area at Jarman Memorial Hospital in Tuscola. After the senate meeting I talked with many persons who may have disagreed with the statements I made before the assembly; however, in no way did any of these people act in a discourteous or dishonorable manner.

Students Charged With Theft Of $250 From Mattoon Motel

Two Eastern students, Gary Wayne Beschorner, 19, of Ottawa, and Dean Alvin Johnson, also 19, of Elmwood Park, are scheduled to appear at a March 28 preliminary hearing concerning their alleged participation in a motel theft.

Seized in Charleston after a police chase Feb. 19, the pair was charged with the theft of about $250 from the Holiday Inn in Mattoon.

Vernon Dearnbarger, night clerk of the motel, discovered the cash drawer in the office had been rifled shortly before 3:30 a.m. and the university sophomores were in the custody of the Charleston police department at 3:50 a.m.

The case is still pending but the youths have posted 10 per cent on a bond of $1,500 each.

Chief Accountant Dies

Mrs. Jane Freeman, chief accountant at the university, died Feb. 18. Widow of Ernest Freeman, former postmaster of Charleston, Mrs. Freeman lived in Charleston since 1947.

She received a masters degree in business from Harvard, but was best noted for her musical achievements. She performed in the Chicago Women's Orchestra and played for many years with the Eastern orchestra as first bass player.

WAKE ME WHEN IT'S OVER

The trouble with early morning classes is that you're too sleepy. At late morning classes you're too hungry. At early afternoon classes you're too logy. At late afternoon classes you're too hungry again. The fact is—and we might as well face it—there is no good time of day to take a class.

What shall we do then? Abandon our colleges to the ivy? I say no! I say America did not become the hope of mankind and the world's largest producer of butterfats and tallows by running away from a fight!

If you're always too hungry or too sleepy for class, then let's hold classes when you're not too hungry or sleepy; namely, while you're eating or sleeping.

Classes while eating are a simple matter. Just have a lecturer lecture while the eaters eat. But watch out for noisy foods. I mean who can hear a lecturer lecture when everybody is crunching celery or matzo or like that? Serve quiet stuff—like anchovy paste on a doughnut, or steaming bowls of lamb fat.

Now let us turn to the problem of learning while sleeping. First, can it be done?

Yes, it can. Psychologists have proved that the brain is definitely able to assimilate information during sleep. Take, for instance, a recent experiment conducted by a leading Eastern university (Stanford). A small tape recorder was placed under the pillow of the subject, a freshman named Wrobert Wright. When Wrobert was fast asleep, the recorder was turned on. Softly, all through the night, it repeated threestatements in Wrobert's slumbering ear:

1. Herbert Spencer lived to the age of 109 and is called "The Founder of English Eclectic Philosophy."
2. The banana plant is not a tree but a large perennial herb.
3. The Archduke Ferdinand was assassinated in 1914 at Sarajevo by a young nationalist named Mjilas Cvetnik, who has been called "The Trigger of World War I."

When Wrobert awoke in the morning, the psychologists said to him, "Herbert Spencer lived to the age of 109. What is he called?"

Wrobert promptly answered, "Perennial Herb."

Next they asked him, "What has Mjilas Cvetnik been called?"

Wrobert replied, "Perennial Serb."

Finally they said, "Is the banana plant a tree?"

"To be honest," said Wrobert, "I don't know too much about bananas. But if you gents want any information about razor blades, I'm your man."

"Well," said the psychologists, "can you tell us a blade that shaves closely and cleanly without nicking, pricking, scratching, scraping, scoring, gouging, grinding, flaying or flensing?"

"Yes, I can," said Wrobert. "Personna® Stainless Steel Blades. Not only does Personna give you a true luxury shave, but it gives you heaps and gobs and bushels and barrels of true luxury shaves—each one nearly as truly luxurious as the first."

"Land's sake!" said the psychologists.

"Moreover," said Wrobert, "Personna is available not only in the Double Edge style blade, but also in the Injector style blade."

"Great balls of fire!" said the psychologists.

"So why don't you rush to your dealer and get some Personnas at once?" said Wrobert.

"We will," said the psychologists, twinkling, "but there is something we have to do first."

Whereupon they awarded Wrobert an honorary L.L.B. (Lover of Luxury Blades) degree, and then, linking arms, they sang and danced and bobbed for apples till the campfire had turned to embers.

If you're looking for an honorary degree yourself, we recommend B.S. (Burma Shave®)—from the makers of Personna. It soaks rings around any other lather; it comes in regular or menthol.

Gibbs Wins Journalism Award

Steve Gibbs, former News editor, has won the first place award for news writing in a journalism contest sponsored by Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity.

GIBBS received $25 plus an engraved letter opener for his prize-winning story, which was headlined "Goldwater Hammers at LBJ's Handling of National Defense During Whistle Stop."

The story, which appeared in the Oct. 6, 1964 issue of the News, covered a speech made by Barry Goldwater when his campaign train stopped at Mattoon.

AT FIRST Gibbs said he was "shocked" when he received word of his award from Edward MacDonald, executive secretary of Pi Delta Epsilon, because he was not aware that his story was submitted to the contest by Kenneth Hesler, then adviser of the News.

However, Gibbs said that the arrival of the $25 check proved to be a "pleasant experience."

Seven other persons have been placed in teaching positions for the 1966-67 school year with an average salary of $5,250.

Five re-registrants, all of whom either are experienced or holders of master's degrees, were placed in positions paying an average salary of $7,359.

In addition, 31 applicants were placed in business positions. Of this number, 24 persons reported salaries which average $6,222.

$1,000 Grant To EIU Business By Marathon

A $1,000 unrestricted grant has been given to the School of Business by Marathon Oil Foundation Incorporated.

James F. Giffin, director of the School of Business, said that the grant, the second that Eastern has received from Marathon, will be used to add to programs that go beyond the school's operating budget, such as field trips, purchase of reading material, and professional visitation.

The first Marathon grant, given in 1963, was spent on lectures and publications for the school.

A check for $1,000 was presented to Giffin Feb. 22, by Tom S. Thompson, personnel placement coordinator, and Robert M. Teshner, personnel representative of Marathon Oil.

Thompson said that industry is beginning to recognize its interdependence with education and appreciate ideas of education that are applicable to business. Through such means as the Marathon grant, industry is accepting responsibility for its reliance on education, Thompson added.

He concluded by saying, "To be a good corporate citizen, we have to be interested in education."

The new Lantz Physical Education and Recreation complex is expected to be ready for limited use during the 1966 summer quarter. Parents Day Weekend is the tentative date set for dedication of the new Lantz facility.

SIX NEW POSITIONS are to be filled in the physical education department for next year, even with none of the present staff leaving. The staff increase calls for two instructors in health education, three in men's physical education and one in women's physical education. Reports have not been confirmed as to any success he's had on spare time head-hunting missions.

Trio Takes A Look At Gregg Triad

EDITOR'S NOTE: Staff members Judy Kallal of Ford, Jan Gerlach of McKinney and Shirley Beck of Weller kept ears open for comments on the newly opened Gregg Triad this past week. The following is the story of what they saw and heard.

Green and yellow flowered chairs, gold starred china and best of all within a stone's throw of Ford, McKinney and Weller, the new Gregg Triad has been serving coeds and late lunches since its opening March 10.

Its atmosphere is "Chicago" and according to many of its customers it has the clean, spacious look of a fine restaurant. Planters and ceiling fixtures partition the dining area into two parts for attractive convenience.

THE GREEN and yellow decor wins feminine praise, clearly decorated with "a woman in mind" one coed suggests. However, some of the men having occasion to eat late lunches there disagree. They find it "cheery" and comfortably suited to both sexes.

The quiet uncluttered service is "restful" to the eaters, helpless victims of hurried student life. However, the noon rush creates a pile-up at the dumb-waiter, an innovation which has received much criticism.

PICTURE windows are favored by the coed-customers whose only complaint is that there are not more of them.

The tables, which seat from four to six and are arranged in varied sizes and shapes, shake considerably.

The food is "about the same," most say. But the milk housed in new stainless steel cabinets with mechanical spouts is much colder than it was previously in the individual cartons.

The McKinnians are most pleased with their new "restaurant" and the Weller Dwellers are ecstatic over the extra time they have to languish in bed with the Triad being right next door.

Mrs. Robert Sterling, assistant food service manager, is the supervisor of the Triad. She says, "There are still things to iron out, but we are all pleased and from the comments of the girls, they feel the dining room is quiet and pleasant."

These three co-eds are among the residents of Ford, McKinney and Weller Hall who are now being served by the Gregg Triad Refectory. The new facility has been described as having the atmosphere of a Chicago restaurant. Formerly women living in these halls were served meals in the University Union.

All Conference Team Selected

Eastern's Larry Miller, 6-4 senior from Clinton, was one of four unanimous choices for this year's IIAC team. Miller, picked on the team for the first time, led the Panthers in every major statistical department this year.

He staged a conference scoring duel with Northern Illinois' Willie Hanson, also a unanimous all-league pick, with Hanson ending up the league leader with an average of 23.8 compared to Miller's 20.9.

For the season Miller totalled 512 points, which ranks him sixth on the all-time Eastern individual season totals, and grabbed 270 rebounds which left him only 30 short of the season record.

Individual records set this season by Miller included a Lantz Gym record of 46 points against Lewis College, 37 consecutive free throws during a seven game span and a season free throw percentage record of .767.

Other unanimous choices for the first team were Mel Lacey of Western Illinois and Don Edwards of Central Michigan. One vote short of unanimous selections were LeRoy Harwell of Western and Willie Iverson of Central Michigan, putting six men on the first team.

Don Templeman, junior from Williamsville, was Eastern's representative on the eight-man second team while Tom Moriarty, senior from Kankakee was listed as honorable mention.

WAA To Elect New Officers

Candidates for 1966-67 officers for the Women's Athletic Association are for president: Karen Admire, junior from Gillespie and Cheryl Henry, junior from Mattoon; for vice president: Marilyn Breitzke and Pamela Vahl, both sophomores from Elmwood Park.

Candidates for secretary are Mary Ellen Bullerman, junior from Windsor and Carolyn Murbarger, junior from Clay City. Peggy Morris, junior from Lawrenceville and Judy Stevenson, sophomore from Aurora, are running for the office of treasurer.

The WAA will conduct the election on March 24 and 25.

Wrestlers Last In Conference Meet

The only winter squad to have a winning season was the wrestling team under the direction of coach Harold O. "Hop" Pinther. The grapplers finished with a record of 9-6 though finishing last in the conference meet.

Larry Kanke, sophomore from Rock Island, led the team with an 11-1-1 season record. Gary Wintjen, sophomore from Bethalto, led the team in falls, pinning 5 of 9 opponents. Kanke wrestles at 177 lbs. and Wintjen at 191 lbs.

Wintjen gained a first team selection on the District 20 All-Star team while Kanke and Jim Mentz, junior from Hillside, nabbed second team berths.

ILLINOIS STATE won the conference wrestling meet, followed by Northern Illinois, Western Illinois, Central Michigan and Eastern.

The Panther's Ken Cummins was EIU's only individual winner, nabbing the title in the 123 lb. class. Jerry Nyckel, Bellwood sophomore, and Wintjen each picked up second place finishes.

Cummins and Wintjen went to the NCAA Nationals, and were eliminated in the second round. Wintjen placed sixth in the meet among 191 pounders.

Mellema To Battle For National Title

When Eastern Michigan's John Mason attempts to defend his national championship at Macomb Friday and Saturday, his sternest competition could come from a Detroit area gymnast attending Eastern.

Bob Mellema, a junior from Waterford, Mich., is the highest scoring gymnast in Eastern history and holds the IIAC championship in the long horse.

MELLEMA HAS averaged 8.894 in the long horse this season—and that's just a shade under the 8.9 mark Mason achieved in winning the NAIA championship last winter. Mellema was judged at 8.625 in his IIAC title effort on March 5.

He also has an 8-point average in judging for the parallel bars, and he placed third in all-around competition with a six-event point total of 42.3. It was an impressive finish considering that national champion Jerry Polacek of Western Illinois won with a 45.8 mark.

ALL SCORING this season is based on judging figures, but under the old system of awarding points for places (6-5-4-3-2-1) Mellema is the heaviest point-getter in EIU history.

The star gymnast won 30 firsts in 14 meets and totaled 349½ points under the old scoring system. The school record, dating back to 1961-62, was 253 points.

Mellema, a transfer from Flint Junior College, performs the difficult Hecht from the neck and Yamashita from the croup vaults. The Hecht is a layout vault from the far end of the horse, and the Yamashita is a front sommersault from the near end.

"THESE ARE VAULTS of superior difficulty, and he executes them well," says Coach Bob Hussey. "Bob is a very strong individual who has tremendous potential to move up in gymnastics. He needs only a little more fluency."

Hussey feels that Mellema has "a good opportunity to place" against national competition. If he does, it will be a fine climax to a brief but brilliant collegiate career.

Although only a junior, Mellema's term of eligibility will expire just prior to gymnastics season because of a conference rule limiting eligibility to 12 quarters of school.

Softball Forms Due March 22

Entries for intramural softball will be due at 5 p.m. Tuesday, March 22 in the intramural office in Lantz Gym.

Students who wish to compete but are not affiliated with any organization may register without being connected with a team and will be contacted when teams are organized.

There will be two divisions of play, "A" and "B". "A" competition is primarily organized for teams wishing to qualify for the university championship playoffs or are competing for the all-sports trophy.

The "B" division serves students who play for recreation and is open to both graduate and undergraduate students as well as faculty members.

Play will be governed by official softball rules with modifications for intramural competition.

IM Free Throw Tourney To Begin

The intramural basketball free throw contest, to be held March 21 in the Lab School Gym, will be open to all male members of the university except members of the non-varsity basketball squads.

SIX BASKETS in the Lab School will be available for shooting from 4 until 10 p.m. on the day of the competition. Anyone registered at the gymnasium by the deadline will have an opportunity to complete shots.

Pre-registration is not required but students must present their identification card upon arrival at the gymnasium. Participants must wear gym shoes or remove street shoes before admittance to the shooting area.

A total of 50 attempts to include two rounds of 25 shots will be allowed each individual. One minute rest period is permitted between rounds.

TEAM POINTS will be allowed in the competition. The team championship will be awarded on the basis of the accumulated scores in the 10 highest rounds of 25 shots made by any organization or special group.

This rule permits one individual to contribute either single or double rounds to his team score if his marks are among the 10 highest rounds of 25 shots completed by the organization he represents.

Moore Wins Four

Glen Acksel, a graduate assistant, coached the non-varsity wrestling team. Of the freshman grapplers, Roscoe Moore, Champaign freshman, won four matches. Dennis Mattox, Champaign freshman, and Paul Felt, Elmwood Park sophomore, were second on the squad with three wins each.

EIU Swimmers Finish Winless

Lack of team depth kept the varsity swimmers from garnering enough points to win any dual meets this season which accounts for coach Paul Wheeler's eight-man squad ending the year with a 0-10-1 record.

Glenn Anderson, Oak Forest senior, had record breaking performances in the 500 and 200-yard freestyle and Greg Dennis, senior from Robinson, set records in the 50 and 100-yard freestyle.

Other performers for Eastern included Glenn Anderson, who will return next year were Dave McJunkin, junior from Evanston, in the backstroke; Steve Heinrich, Chicago sophomore, in the backstroke; Gary McCoy, junior from Elgin, freestyler.

Western Illinois was far and away the winner in the conference meet. The Leathernecks compiled 475 points compared to runner-up Illinois State's 359. Northern Illinois was third, Central Michigan fourth and Eastern last.

Anderson captured Eastern's only first place finish coming in the 500-yard freestyle. His time of 5:35 set both a school and pool record. He also finished second in the 200-yard and 1600-yard freestyle events.

Other Eastern finishers in the conference meet were Dave McJunkin, third in the 400-yard individual medley, second in the 200-yard backstroke and sixth in the 200-yard individual medley; Greg Dennis, fifth in the 50-yard freestyle, fourth in the 100-yard freestyle and fourth in the 200-yard freestyle; and Gary McCoy, third in the 500-yard freestyle. Eastern's 400-yard freestyle relay team placed third.

Gymnasts Win Third In IIAC

An encouraging 6-12 record highlighted a rebuilding season for coach Bob Hussey's gymnasts. Captain Bob Mellema, a Waterford, Mich. junior, won 30 first place performances and set a record for most points scored in a single season.

Other performers for Eastern this year were John Kruse, Palatine junior, on the rings; Bob Sabey, Mt. Prospect junior, on the side horse; Butch Vogelsang, Mattoon junior, on the trampoline; and Terry Dieckhoff, Paris sophomore, on the still rings.

Eastern finished in third place in the conference meet this year ahead of Illinois State and Central Michigan. Western Illinois won the title with a total of 176 points followed closely by Northern Illinois with 175 points.

Mellema garnered first place in the long horse, third on the parallel bars, and second in the all-around to lead the gymnasts to their third place finish.

Other point getters for Eastern were Bob Sabey placing second on the side horse and Ed Cheatham fourth in tumbling.
